OREGON FAMILY LEAVE

You can take time off to take care of yourself or close family members under the Oregon Family Leave Act (OFLA).

- ▶ This time is protected, but often unpaid unless you have vacation, sick, or other paid leave available. Paid family leave will be available in 2023.
- ▶ To be eligible, you must have worked an average of 25 hours per week for 180 days - just 180 days for parental leave. Separation from employment or removal from the schedule for up to 180 days does not count against eligibility. During a public health emergency, you are eligible for all types of OFLA leave after working for at least 30 days prior at an average of at least 25 hours per week. Your employer must have at least 25 employees.
- ▶ You can take up to a total of 12 weeks of time off per year for any of these reasons.
 - » Parental leave for either parent to take time off for the birth, adoption, or foster placement of a child. If you use all 12 weeks, you can take up to 12 more weeks for sick child leave.
 - » Serious health condition of your own, or to care for a family member.
 - » Pregnancy disability leave before or after birth of child or for prenatal care. You can take up to 12 weeks of this in addition to 12 weeks for any reason listed here.
 - » Military family leave up to 14 days if your spouse is a service member who has been called to active duty or is on leave from active duty.
 - » Sick child leave for your child with an illness, injury or condition that requires home care but is not serious, or to care for a child whose school or place of care is closed because of a public health emergency.
 - » Bereavement leave for up to 2 weeks after the death of a family member.
- ▶ Your employer must keep giving you the same health insurance benefits as when you are working. When you come back you must be returned to your former job or a similar position if your old job no longer exists.

Oregon Administrative Rule 437-001-0275(2)(a)

Know your rights

- › You have the right to notify your employer, Oregon OSHA, or both about workplace hazards. You may ask Oregon OSHA to keep your name confidential.
- › You have the right to refuse to perform a hazardous task that would expose you to imminent danger or serious physical harm and there is no reasonable alternative.
- › You have the right to request an Oregon OSHA inspection if you believe there are unsafe or unhealthy conditions in your workplace. You or your representative may participate in the inspection.
- › You have the right to report a work-related injury or illness, without being retaliated or discriminated against.
- › You have the right to see Oregon OSHA citations issued to your employer. Your employer must post the citations at the workplace. Your employer must correct workplace hazards by the date indicated on the citation, and must certify that these hazards have been reduced or eliminated.
- › You have the right to your work-related exposure records covered under Oregon OSHA's rules. This includes any OSHA medical records and personal sampling records.
- › You have the right to request your workplace injury and illness log, known as the "OSHA 300 log" and "OSHA 300A summary."
- › You have the right to know about hazardous substances used in your workplace.

You have the right to file a complaint with the Oregon Bureau of Labor and Industries (BOLI) within one year, or with federal OSHA within 30 days, of discrimination by your employer for making safety and health complaints or for exercising your rights under the Oregon Safe Employment Act.

The Oregon Safe Employment Act of 1973 provides job safety and health protection for workers through the promotion of safe and healthful working conditions throughout the state. The Oregon Occupational Safety and Health Division (Oregon OSHA) of the Department of Consumer and Business Services has the primary responsibility for administering the act. This includes the right to refuse work that would expose you to serious physical harm or imminent danger.

Oregon OSHA adopts occupational safety and health standards, and its trained safety and health compliance officers conduct workplace inspections to ensure compliance with the Oregon Safe Employment Act.

Anyone who wants to register a complaint about the administration of the Oregon Safe Employment Act can do so by contacting:

NOTICE TO EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES

OREGON LAWS 2009, CHAPTER 658 (SENATE BILL 519)

Under Oregon law effective January 1, 2010, an employer may not discharge, discipline, or otherwise penalize or threaten to discharge, discipline, or otherwise penalize or take any adverse employment action against an employee:

- meeting or communication if the primary purpose of the meeting or communication;
- is to communicate the opinion of the employer about religious or political matters;
- as a means of requiring an employee to attend such a meeting or communication;
- because the employee makes a good faith report, orally or in writing, of a violation or a suspected violation of this law.

The law does not prohibit an employer from requiring attendance at the meetings that are not primarily about religious or political matters. The law also does not prohibit an employer from offering meetings, forums, or other communication about religious or political matters for which attendance or participation is strictly voluntary.

An aggrieved employee may bring a civil action no later than 90 days after the date of the alleged violation in the circuit court of the judicial district where the violation is alleged to have occurred or where the principal office of the employer is located.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT + DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PROTECTIONS

Oregon laws protect your right to work free from harassment. They also require your employer to provide supports if you are a victim of domestic violence.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT

- ▶ You have the right to a workplace free from harassment, discrimination, and sexual assault. Your employer must have a policy to reduce and prevent these violations.
- ▶ Discrimination because of race, color, sex, sexual orientation, national origin, religion, marital status, uniformed service, disability, or age is illegal.
- ▶ Sexual harassment can look like unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or conduct of a sexual nature (verbal, physical, or visual), that is directed toward an individual.
- ▶ It can also include conduct that is not sexual but is gender-related. Sexual harassment can be targeted toward someone of the same or different sex or gender.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE PROTECTIONS

- ▶ If you experience domestic violence, harassment, sexual assault, or stalking (or if you are a parent or guardian of a victim), your employer must make reasonable changes to support your safety.
- ▶ These changes might include: a transfer, reassignment, modified schedule, unpaid leave, changed work phone number, changed work station, installed lock, new safety procedure, or other adjustment after threatened or actual events.
- ▶ You can also take protected leave to find legal or law enforcement assistance, get medical treatment for injuries or mental health support, move or change your living situation, and more.
- ▶ Your employer must keep all documents and information confidential.
- ▶ You can't be fired, suspended, retaliated or discriminated against in any way because you are a victim.

BREAKS & MEALS + OVERTIME & PAYCHECKS

Your employer is required to give you breaks free from work responsibilities. There are specific rules about overtime pay and paychecks.

BREAKS & MEALS

- ▶ For each 8 hour work shift you get these breaks free from work responsibilities:
 - » Two 10 minute paid rest breaks (15 minutes if you are under 18)
 - » One 30 minute unpaid meal break
- ▶ You also get reasonable breaks as needed to express milk (and a private space that is not a bathroom to pump) until your child reaches 18 months of age.
- ▶ If your shift is longer or shorter than 8 hours, refer to the chart here or visit oregon.gov/boli/workers/Pages/meals-and-breaks.aspx for more information.

Shift Length	Rest Breaks	Meal Breaks
2 hrs or less	0	0
2 hrs 1 min - 5 hrs 59 min	1	0
6 hrs	1	1
6 hrs 1 min - 10 hrs	2	1
10 hrs 1 min - 13 hrs 59 min	3	1
14 hrs	3	2
14 hrs 1 min - 18 hrs	4	2

OVERTIME & PAYCHECKS

- ▶ You must receive overtime pay at 1.5 times your regular pay rate for hours you work over 40 in a workweek (or over 55 if you work in agriculture). There are exceptions but they are uncommon.
- ▶ Regular paydays are required by law. You must receive a paycheck at least every 35 days. Your employer must provide you with a detailed paystub.
- ▶ If you are fired or permanently laid off, you must get your last paycheck by the end of the next business day.
- ▶ If you quit with 48+ hours' notice, you must get your last paycheck on your last day of employment. If you do not give 48 hours' notice, you must get your last paycheck within 5 business days or the next payday, whichever is first.

SICK TIME

All Oregon workers get protected sick time.
If you work for an employer with 10+ employees (6+ if they have a location in Portland), you get paid sick time.

- ▶ Your employer must give you sick time. You get at least 1 hour of protected sick time for every 30 hours you work up to at least 40 hours a year.
- ▶ You can use sick time for many reasons including if you (or a family member) are sick, injured, experiencing mental illness, or need to visit the doctor. Also covered: bereavement, parental leave, and leave to care for a child whose school or place of care is closed for a public health emergency.
- ▶ Your employer must pay you your regular wage when you take sick time if they have 10+ employees (6+ if they have a location in Portland). Otherwise, your sick time is protected but unpaid.
- ▶ You can start taking protected sick time after you've worked for at least 90 days. Your employer must regularly let you know how much sick time you have earned.

(regulated by Employment Department)

Who must post?

Employers with at least a $1000 payroll in a calendar quarter and employers with one or more workers during 18 different weeks in a calendar year.

The Employment Department automatically sends this notice after an account is set up or reopened. Employers can order a duplicate if necessary. When ordering a duplicate, employers will need their business identification number.

You will find additional information and an order form at www.oregon.gov/employ/tax.

REQUIRED NOTICE!

Workers' Compensation Notice of Compliance:

(regulated by Workers' Compensation Division of DCBS)

Who must post?

All employers who are required to provide workers' compensation coverage for their employees.

Employers receive this notice from the Workers' Compensation Division after they purchase workers' compensation insurance. Employers not receiving the notice or requiring a duplicate notice should contact the Workers' Compensation Division.

You can also contact them at <https://wcd.oregon.gov>

PREDICTIVE SCHEDULING

- ▶ Your employer must give you a work schedule in writing at least 14 calendar days in advance. It must be posted and easily visible and include all work shifts/on-call shifts. You may decline shifts that are not included in the written work schedule.
- ▶ You have the right to rest between shifts. Unless you request or agree to it, you can't be scheduled to work during the first 10 hours after the previous calendar day's work or on-call shift OR the first 10 hours following the end of work that spanned two calendar days. If you are scheduled for a back to back shift within 10 hours, your employer must pay you time-and-a-half your regular pay rate.
- ▶ Your employer must pay you additional compensation if they change your schedule less than 14 days ahead the start of the schedule. If you request to work additional shifts or make changes, this extra pay is not required. Other exceptions include changes of less than 30 minutes, disciplinary suspensions, staff shortages, if you agree to be on the voluntary standby list, and a few others. Learn more at oregon.gov/boli.
 - » You must get an extra hour of pay at your regular rate plus wages earned if your employer adds more than 30 minutes of work to your shift, changes the date, start time, or end time of your shift with no loss of hours, or schedules you for an extra work or on-call shift
 - » You must get one-half of your regular rate of pay, per hour, for each scheduled hour that you do not work if your employer subtracts hours from your shift before or after you report for duty, changes the date or start time/end time of your shift resulting in a loss of hours, cancels your shift, or does not ask you to work when you are scheduled for an on-call shift
- ▶ You have the right to provide input into your schedule. You may identify limitations or changes in your availability including child care needs. You may request not to be scheduled for work shifts during certain times or at certain locations. Your employer is not required to grant your requests, but they may not retaliate against you for making them.
- ▶ When you're hired: Your employer must give you a written estimate of your work schedule that includes the average number of hours you can expect to work and if/how you will be expected to work on-call shifts.
- ▶ Voluntary standby list: Your employer must give you information about their voluntary standby list, which is an opt-in list they can keep of people willing to work additional hours due to unanticipated customer needs or unexpected absences.

Retail, hospitality, and food services employers must follow predictive work schedule rules if they employ at least 500 workers worldwide. This law applies to workers whose work is related to retail, hospitality, and food service. Temporary or leased workers and exempt salaried workers are not covered by this law.

EQUAL PAY

Your employer must pay you the same amount as other people doing similar work.

- ▶ It's illegal for your employer to pay you less than someone else because of your gender, race, veteran status, disability, age, color, religion, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, or pay history.
- ▶ Different pay may be allowed if there is system based on bona fide factors including one or more of the following: seniority, merit, a system that measures earnings by quantity or quality of production, workplace location, travel, education, training, or experience.
- ▶ You're also protected during the hiring process:
 - » Employers cannot ask for your salary/pay history before they make an offer of employment
 - » Employers cannot screen job applicants based on current or past salary/pay history
 - » Employers cannot determine compensation for a job based on the pay history of a potential new employee (not including internal transfers)
- ▶ Your employer can't use pay cuts to make your pay equal with other employees.
- ▶ If you need to, you can file a complaint at oregon.gov/boli. You could get back pay or the pay difference you are owed.

Workplace Accommodations Notice _____ is an equal opportunity employer and does not discriminate on the basis of race, religion, color, sex, age, national origin, disability, veteran status, sexual orientation, gender identity, gender expression or any other classification protected by law.

_____ will make reasonable accommodations for known physical or mental disabilities of an applicant or employee as well as known limitations related to pregnancy, childbirth or a related medical condition, such as lactation, unless the accommodation would cause an undue hardship. Among other possibilities, reasonable accommodations could include:

- Acquisition or modification of equipment or devices;
- More frequent or longer break periods or periodic rest;
- Assistance with manual labor
- A reasonable period of leave; or
- Modification of work schedules or job assignments.

Employees and job applicants have a right to be free from unlawful discrimination and retaliation.

This includes discrimination because of pregnancy, childbirth and related medical conditions. For this reason, _____ will not:

- Deny employment opportunities on the basis of a need for reasonable accommodation.
- Deny reasonable accommodation for known limitations, unless the accommodation would cause an undue hardship.
- Take an adverse employment action, discriminate or retaliate because the applicant or employee has inquired about, requested or used a reasonable accommodation.
- Require an applicant or an employee to accept an accommodation that is unnecessary.
- Require an employee to take family leave or any other leave, if the employer can make reasonable accommodation instead.

To request an accommodation or to discuss concerns or questions about this notice, please contact any one of our supervisors or _____ in the human resources department. [Provide multiple ways for employees to reach out with requests or concerns.]

Employer-Sponsored Meetings or Communication Regarding Political or Religious Matters

Pursuant to Oregon Statute, 659.785, an employer or the employer's agent, representative or designee may not discharge, discipline or otherwise penalize or threaten to discharge, discipline or otherwise penalize or take any adverse employment action against an employee:

- (a) Because the employee declines to attend or participate in an employer-sponsored meeting or communication with the employer or the agent, representative or designee of the employer if the primary purpose of the meeting or communication is to communicate the opinion of the employer about religious or political matters;
- (b) As a means of requiring an employee to attend a meeting or participate in communications described in paragraph (a) above; or
- (c) Because the employee, or a person acting on behalf of the employee, makes a good faith report, orally or in writing, of a violation or a suspected violation of this section. This paragraph does not apply if the employee knows that the report is false.

"Political matters" includes activity related to political party affiliation, campaigns for measures, or candidates for political office and the decision to join, not join, support or not support any lawful political or constituent group.

"Religious matters" Includes activity related to religious affiliation or the decision to join, not join, support or not support a bona fide religious organization.

An aggrieved employee may bring a civil action to enforce this section no later than 90 days after the date of the alleged violation in the circuit court of the judicial district where the violation is alleged to have occurred or where the principal office of the employer is located. The court may award a prevailing employee all appropriate relief, including injunctive relief, rehiring or reinstatement of the employee to the employee's former position or an equivalent position, back pay and reestablishment of any employee benefits, including seniority, to which the employee would otherwise have been eligible if the violation had not occurred and any other appropriate relief as deemed necessary by the court to make the employee whole. The court will award a prevailing employee treble damages, together with reasonable attorney fees and costs.

This section does not:

- (a) Limit an employee's right to bring a common law cause of action against an employer for wrongful termination;
- (b) Diminish or impair the rights of a person under a collective bargaining agreement;
- (c) Prohibit a religious organization from requiring its employees to attend an employer-sponsored meeting or participate in any communication with the employer or the employer's agent, representative or designee for the primary purpose of communicating the employer's religious beliefs, practices or tenets;
- (d) Prohibit a political organization, including a political party or other organization that engages, in substantial part, in political matters, from requiring the political organization's employees to attend an employersponsored meeting or participate in any communication with the employer or the employer's agent, representative or designee for the primary purpose of communicating the employer's political tenets or purposes;
- (e) Prohibit communications of information about religious or political matters that the employer is required by law to communicate, but only to the extent of the lawful requirement;
- (f) Prohibit mandatory meetings of an employer's executive or administrative personnel to discuss issues related to the employer's business, including those issues addressed in this section; or
- (g) Limit the rights of an employer to offer meetings, forums or other communications about religious or political matters for which attendance or participation is strictly voluntary.

What you need to know

Starting in September 2023, Paid Leave Oregon will serve most employees in Oregon by providing paid leave for the birth or adoption of a child, you or a loved one's serious illness or if you experience sexual assault, domestic violence, harassment, or stalking.

What benefits are provided through Paid Leave Oregon and who is eligible?

Employees in Oregon that have earned at least $1,000 in the prior year may qualify for up to 12 weeks of paid family, medical or safe leave in a benefit year. While on leave, Paid Leave Oregon pays employees a percentage of their wages. Benefit amounts depend on what an employee earned in the prior year.

Who pays for Paid Leave Oregon?

Starting on January 1, 2023, employees and employers contribute to Paid Leave Oregon through payroll taxes. Contributions are calculated as a percentage of wages and your employer will deduct your portion of the contribution rate from your paycheck.

When do I need to tell my employer about taking leave?

If your leave is foreseeable, you are required to give notice to your employer at least 30 days before starting paid family, medical or safe leave. If you do not give the required notice, Paid Leave Oregon may reduce your first weekly benefit by 25%.

How do I apply for Paid Leave?

In September 2023, you can apply for leave with Paid Leave Oregon online at paidleave.oregon.gov or request a paper application from the department. If your application is denied, you can appeal the decision with the Oregon Employment Department.

What are my rights?

If you are eligible for paid leave, your employer cannot prevent you from taking it. Your job is protected while you take paid leave if you have worked for your employer for at least 90 consecutive calendar days. You will not lose your pension rights while on leave and your employer must keep giving you the same health benefits as when you are working.

How is my information protected?

Any health information related to family, medical or safe leave that you choose to share with your employer is confidential and can only be released with your permission, unless the release is required by law.

What if I have questions about my rights?

It is unlawful for your employer to discriminate or retaliate against you because you asked about or claimed paid leave benefits. If your employer is not following the law, you have the right to bring a civil suit in court or to file a complaint with the Oregon Bureau of Labor & Industries (BOLI). You can file a complaint with BOLI online, via phone or email:

Bullying harms employees, employers, and businesses by creating a disrespectful, unhealthful, and nonproductive work environment. Workplace bullying generally is not illegal in Oregon, however, it is harmful and in some cases can lead to lawsuits based on discrimination. Oregon and federal laws protect individuals who are harassed and discriminated against because of their race, national origin, gender, veteran status, or other protected class status.

What is workplace bullying?

Workplace bullying is a pattern of repeated mistreatment that harms, intimidates, undermines, offends, degrades or humiliates an employee. Bullying situations may involve:

- Bosses or supervisors against their subordinates
- Employees against their peers
- A group of co-workers targeting another worker (mobbing)
- An organization or institution when bullying is entrenched and becomes accepted as part of the workplace culture
- A third party such as a client or customer who bullies an employee

Managers and supervisors who have high expectations, present a tough demeanor, identify areas requiring improved performance, or impose discipline within established workplace guidelines are not engaging in bullying as long as their actions are carried out in a respectful and fair manner.

Examples of situations and actions commonly considered bullying:

Abusive Work Environment: The bully makes physical or verbal threats against the target, insults, or publicly humiliates them. The bully spreads malicious untruthful information or gossip to intimidate or turn others against the target.

Undermining and Discrediting: The bully makes false accusations of incompetence, blames target for others' errors, and/or takes credit for target's successes at work.

Retaliation: The target experiences intentional exclusion and ostracism after raising concerns. This may also include retaliatory loss of job opportunities or favored work activities and schedules when not related

What can I do if I'm being bullied?

Regain control! Bullying is about control, and therefore it has nothing to do with your performance. Here are some options for what you can do:

- Check if your organization has a code of conduct or workplace violence program that addresses intimidation or harassment at work.
- Carefully document bullying incidents (dates, times, places, what was done or said and who was present). Keep documents that contradict the bully's accusations, such as timesheets, emails, and audit reports. Assess whether changes in your own behavior could help resolve the situation.
- Set boundaries with the bully. If safe to do so, describe the offensive behavior and declare that you expect it to stop. The bully is likely to deny and even misconstrue your accusations initially. However, their behavior may improve over time. Having another person present as a witness and remaining calm can be helpful and strengthen your position if the bully responds negatively.
- Do not retaliate or escalate the behavior, because you may be blamed or subject to discipline.
- Report the problem to your supervisor, another manager, or to another "higher-up" at work. This is where the documentation will be helpful to demonstrate that you did not contribute to the situation.
- Find emotional support from trusted people at work, outside of work and at home.

Why it Matters

Workplace bullying often involves an abuse or misuse of power. Bullying behavior creates feelings of defenselessness and injustice in the target and undermines an individual's right to dignity at work. The targets of bullying may suffer from physical and mental health problems that can last for many years. Bullying can also reduce productivity, decrease retention, and increase employer health costs.

Targets of bullying frequently experience one or more of these significant impacts:

- Stress, depression, and sleep disorders
- Reduced self-esteem
- Increased physical illness and sick days
- Increased accidents and injuries
- Lack of focus and loss of effectiveness

Bullying can be costly for organizations too:

- Distraction and loss of productivity by the target, the bully, and bystanders
- Poor workplace morale and loss of reputation
- Possible investigations, grievances, and lawsuits
- Inability to recruit and retain good staff
- Increased medical costs and attendance issues

What can an employer do?

First and foremost, employers must recognize and prevent workplace bullying by creating a respectful workplace culture. If you are an employer, supervisor, or manager who is aware of bullying and do not take action, then you are accepting a share of the responsibility for future abuses. Take steps to:

- Develop a respectful workplace code of conduct that specifically prohibits bullying behavior and identifies consequences for employees who engage in bullying.
- Establish a culture where supervisors are expected to treat employees fairly and respectfully and engage in informal conflict resolution.
- Provide opportunities for confidential reporting and for mediated conflict resolution when needed.
- Educate all employees about respectful professional behavior and the company code of conduct.
- Take claims of bullying seriously and consistently enforce your workplace code of conduct.

AGRICULTURAL WORKERS

- In general, agricultural workers must be paid at least the minimum wage for the region where your employer is located.
- Effective January 1, 2023, agricultural workers also earn overtime for hours worked over 55 in a workweek.
- For each 8-hour work shift, you get two 10 minute paid rest breaks (15 minutes if you are under 18) and one 30 minute unpaid meal break free from work responsibilities.
- Minors under 18 years of age may work in non-hazardous farm jobs outside of school hours. Minors 14 through 17 years of age who operate power driven farm machinery or ride in or on machinery must obtain a certificate of training and the employer must obtain an employment certificate. Employers must obtain a permit to employ minors under the age of 14.

Minimum Wage + Overtime Exceptions

Agricultural employers are not required to pay minimum wage or overtime to:

- Members of the employer's immediate family.
- Local hand harvest or pruning workers who are paid piece rate and who worked fewer than 13 weeks during the previous calendar year.
- Migrant hand harvest workers 16 or younger who are paid the same piece rate as workers over 16.
- Workers mainly engaged in the range production of livestock.
- Hand harvest and pruning workers who are paid piece rate and work for an employer who did not exceed 500 piece-rate-work-days* of agricultural labor in any quarter of the previous calendar year.

*A piece-rate-work-day accrues for each day an employee performs piece rate agricultural labor for at least one hour.

If you make close to minimum wage, you may qualify for the Earned Income Tax Credit. Visit eitc outreach.org to check.
